6:30pm-8pm	READING COURSE IN WINNICOTT	Location: Zoom Meeting 303 5th Avenue 13th Floor New York, New York 646-543-1981 Tsimon.lcsw@gmail.com
	Tracey Simon Lorraine Caputo
This course studies the seminal contributions of D.W. Winnicott to psychoanalytic theory and treatment, including such concepts as play, transitional space, and True and False Self. A particular focus is on Winnicott's understanding of both healthy development and psychoanalytic treatment as being fundamentally creative processes. Writing assignments and class discussions make use of clinical material in integrating and applying the theories covered to a range of treatment issues, as well as the use of expressive modalities. "Come at the world creatively, create the world; it is only what you create that has meaning for you." (Winnicott, 1968, p.101)
8:30-10pm
Weekend
10/10/20 10/18/20 10/24/20 Time: 12pm-4pm each day	NON-VERBAL COMMUNICATION WITHIN PSYCHOANALYTIC CONTEXT – PART II (Advanced)	Location: Zoom Meeting hmarip@gmail.com
	Mari Grande
This is Part II of this course. In this course students will explore the interface of verbal and non-verbal communication, alternate levels of consciousness through creative modalities, the transference/countertransference dialogue and the forces of energy that enter into a creative psychoanalytic process. A variety of expressive modalities will be examined and their application within the analytic frame will be explored and demonstrated through experiential exercises. Material that emerges will be processed in a group format.
9/20/20 9/27/20 11/1/20 11/8/20 10am-1pm Each day	RESEARCH & ETHICS	Location: Zoom Meeting stafford60ms@gmail.com
	Mark Stafford
This course will frame the ethical issues inherent in psychoanalytic practice, research and writing. It will present the codes of ethics that form the foundation of expected ethical practices and prohibitions and explore their application in the context of psychoanalytic treatment and writing. Readings touch on boundaries, confidentiality, love, money and sex. Candidates will gain insight into risk factors, legal and professional standards, and the implications of violating those standards.
